CULTIVATORS AT ALLEN'S.

Davis proposes to CLOSURE his entire stock at very low figures. Give him a call.

Go to Allen's before you buy your seeds.

Persons knowing themselves indebted to Wm. Davis will please call and settle accounts at once, and oblige.

Allen still smiles at the old stand.

WANTED.—500 Tons of HAY in exchange for Goods.

W. W. SCOTT.

Cakes, Pies, Bread and lunch at ALLEN'S.

Davis has just received new stock of Summer Coats, Pants and Overalls.

BUCKWHEAT AT ALLEN'S.

JNO. FRANCIS & Co. are selling Lake Salt at $2.70; Ohio River at $2.50 per barrel. Call and see them if you want salt. Warranted not to have been watered by the Mississippi.

A good time, this, to loan umbrellas.

Get a shave and take a bath at Thorpe's.

Hayworth & Co. supply our market with early fruits.

Moffatt & Stevenson have a news stand at their drug store.

The "pin back" dress is not worn by the ladies of our city as yet.

Houses that did not leak last Friday week are proof against rain.

Pumpkins in market, and of course pumpkin pies will soon be ripe.

Another old resident gone—Beck's old dog was killed last Thursday.

We would like a few loads of wood on subscription for THE REGISTER.

The first water-melons of the season were brought to town last Monday.

Sheet music that is found in most households—children crying in bed.

The colored folks' celebration at Humboldt last Wednesday was a success.

Persons hunting should remember that the law protecting quails is still in force.

Cattle are fat, and Maiera keeps his meat market well supplied with the best of beef.

Persons who intend putting up hay would love to see a specimen of drouthy Kansas.

Judge Talcott returned home last Saturday evening from holding court in Neosho county.

Wednesday, Thursday and Friday were clear days and a large quantity of grass was cut.

For a good paper collar put up in a box worth the price of a dozen collars, call at Colborn's.

When you want a cheap hat or a pair of good boots call on Davis at the sign of the big boot.

Mr. Garrison brought some fine cheese to town last Thursday from his factory on Deer Creek.

The Leland Hotel, under Allen's management is quite popular and receives a good patronage.

To those who smoke there is said to be great comfort in a good cigar. You will find them at Allen's.

Old Reliable was on the sick list several days, but he has again made his appearance at the Eureka.

Mr. Proctor has sold his meat shop to Mr. Munger. Mr. P. intends to engage in some other business.

If you want a wagon that will last for two or three generations, have Gorrell & Robinson put you up one.

Our city fathers were in council last Monday evening. An ordinance was passed ordering a new sidewalk.

At the grocery and provision store of Richards & Cowan you will always find a good supply of vegetables.

Newton keeps—in addition to his stock of harness, saddles, bridles, etc.—a good assortment of shoe findings.

Our Street Commissioner has got our town pretty well drained, and the water soon disappears after a rain.

Mr. J. L. Arnold brought some nice ripe peaches to town last Tuesday and readily sold them at $2.00 per bushel.

When you come to town to buy clothing, dry goods or groceries, call and examine Northrup's stock and prices.

Last Saturday was rather a dull day for our merchants as the high waters prevented people from getting to town.

Mrs. James Thomas started for Colorado Springs last Tuesday, where her husband has been working for some time past.

Yesterday was a splendid day for hunting—a good breeze from the north-east—and a great many chickens were killed.

J. H. Richards, our County Attorney, started last Wednesday morning on a trip east. He will probably visit New York City before he returns.

The case of the City of Iowa vs. Wm. Kuhne, in which Mr. Kuhne was charged with selling liquor to a minor, was finally disposed of last Friday. The Police Court adjudged him guilty and assessed a fine of ten dollars and costs.

—Owing to the late rains there was not so much of a slaughter among the prairie chickens last Monday as was anticipated.

—Early peaches bring a good price. In raising fruit and vegetables for market those who have the earliest get the best price.

—Summer goods are being sold very cheap; and to assure yourself that a printer won't lie, call and examine Yates' stock.

—There will be a public examination of teachers at the school house in this place next Tuesday, commencing at 9 o'clock a. m.

—A good many persons who were "crack shots" before the expiration of the game law now find that they are a little out of practice.

—Bad weather on movers. A number of covered wagons have been camping near town lately, unable to travel on account of the rains.

—Mr. Proctor has quit the meat business, but he still keeps the City Hotel where he furnishes good board and accommodations at low rates.

—The City Council met again last Thursday evening, at which time a number of ordinances were passed. They will be published next week.

—The census returns show that the males outnumber the females just one in Iowa township. What young man will go East and get married and thus make it even?

—We have heard a few persons talked of in connection with the county offices to be filled; but we don't believe the aspirants can be told as yet by their hand-shaking.

—S. T. Ellis & Co. started their hay press last Thursday afternoon, and if the weather continues favorable they will soon have a large amount of hay ready for shipping.

—We acknowledge the receipt of complimentary notes to the third annual fair of the Crawford County Agricultural Society, to be held at Girard from Sept. 29th to Oct. 1st.

—The wet weather has delayed hay making, but when you get hay cut and want to sell it, remember that at Scott's you can do well in exchanging hay for dry goods and groceries.

—The annual examination of teachers for State certificates will be held at the Normal building in Emporia on the 10th and 11th of this month, commencing at 8 o'clock a. m. each day.

—There was completed this week at the shop adjoining Gorrell & Robinson's a sample of a new patent wind mill that undoubtedly takes the lead of anything in this line that has yet been invented.

—We will have good weather for haying by and by, and in the meantime it would be well for every one who intends to put up hay, and has not already got a good hay rake, to call on Hartman & Cassin and get one.

—We have received a copy of the report of the Kansas Central Relief Committee. It is full and complete, giving an account of the doings of the Executive Board from the date of organization to disbandment.

—It is a universal rule among publishers to pay no attention to communications unless they are signed. Not worth while to send an unrecipited bill to a printing office. If the printer owes you anything make a note of this.

—Members of the Republican Central Committee of this county will please take notice of the call, published at the head of the column on the second page of to-day's paper, for a meeting of the said committee on Saturday the 21st inst.

—The weather prophets have given it up on the weather, but they predict a great deal of sickness this fall. Remember that Jno. Francis & Co. keep a complete stock of drugs and medicines and an experienced druggist to wait on you, day or night.

—Prairie chickens are not so numerous as in former years at the commencement of the hunting season. Too many of them were trapped last winter, and if they are killed off as rapidly for a year or two more as they were last year they will be among the things that were.

—Some persons were thoughtful enough when they took down their stoves this summer to cover the mouths of their chimneys, and last Friday during the rain storm when the water poured into chimneys and washed the soot out on the walls and floors others wished they had done the same.

—We publish to-day a communication in reference to the yellow blossomed weed which is growing so profusely around our town. The suggestion of the writer that they be destroyed is a good one, and we hope our people will act in accordance with his advice. The communication was received last week, but too late for publication.

—Last Sunday night some hard-hearted wretch, or wretches, went to Mr. Gorrell's barn and tore away some stoves from around a well which is in the barn and took four little pups that were there and put them into it. Monday morning when Mr. Gorrell went out to his barn he discovered the stoves torn away from the well and heard one of the pups whine. He at once went down into the well and found one floating on some pieces of boards; the others were drowned. This is a mean way to play a joke on a man and a cruel way to kill dogs.

—The Grange meeting at Humboldt last Monday, on account of the rain, was not so largely attended as was anticipated. The national lecturer had a good audience, however, at Long's hall and delivered a good sensible discourse. On Tuesday the Grangers had a meeting at the same place, the nature of which we do not know as outsiders were not admitted.

—It will doubtless not be a great while before the Republican and Opposition party—we don't know what its name will be this year—will nominate men for the county offices to be filled this fall. We don't know who the candidates are, but there will probably be enough of them to make a full ticket on both sides, and we commend to their consideration the following paragraph from the Abilene Chronicle: "Candidates do not seem to be announcing as rapidly as they should. Now, gentlemen, you must be patriotic. The dear people need your services and you should be willing to sacrifice yourself on your country's altar—besides we want your five dollars."

—One of the early settlers of this county last winter became disheartened on account of having raised no corn the year before and decided to move back to Indiana where he knew he could raise plenty of corn. The corn on one acre of the farm he left here in Kansas will be worth more than his entire crop in Indiana. The first time he planted his corn it failed to come up; the second time he planted it it came up, but the weeds came up with it and it has been so ever since that he never got to plow it, and a person unacquainted with the fact to look at his corn fields would never know they had been planted in corn. You can't always sometimes tell six months in advance where to go to raise the best corn.

—We had one of the heaviest rain falls a week ago last Friday afternoon, after we had gone to press, ever known in this section. The rain just poured down, and the little brooks and creeks were filled to overflowing in a little while and the water spread over the low flat ground until it looked like a lake.

—There was no great damage done, quite an amount of fencing was washed away in the river and creek bottoms as were also a number of little bridges and culverts; one of the supports of the railroad bridge across Elm creek was washed out, but a construction train came down in advance of the passenger Saturday evening, and the damage was so far repaired that the evening train passed on.

—The corn fields in the bottoms were covered with water but no great injury was done the corn as the creeks and river soon ran down when the water disappeared from the fields.

SAND BURRS.

EDITOR REGISTER:—The yellow blossomed, rather pretty and innocent looking weed, which grows at present so profusely on the public square and other localities about town is nothing less than the notorious sand burr, of whose evil reputation no doubt your readers have heard. I do not remember ever to have seen it in Kansas before; but this year it has made its appearance simultaneously in many localities, and is spreading with great rapidity. When this weed secures a foothold it is among the most persistent and annoying pests with which the farmer has to contend. In some localities in Illinois the people have found it necessary to organize a war of extermination against it, and whole neighborhoods devote a day to its destruction. At present the plant seems confined mainly to the towns and their immediate vicinity, with the exception of one which a lady carefully dug up in the public square and carried four or five miles to plant in her garden. I believe I have seen none hereabouts outside the corporate limits of Iowa. I therefore suggest that our people take time by the forelock, and do themselves and the neighboring farmers a service by destroying such of these weeds as may be found in their yards and gardens and that our efficient street commissioner perform the same service for those occupying the streets and public square. And it should be done quickly before any of the seeds mature or they will be sure to come again, for there is nothing in the vegetable kingdom so tenacious of life as the seed of these sand burrs.

Yours truly,
S.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

IOWA, KANSAS, August 2, 1875.

COUNCIL CHAMBER:—Council met pursuant to adjournment. Councilmen present: N. F. Acers, G. W. Apple, C. M. Simpson, J. H. Richards. Minutes of July 12th, 22nd, and 29th were read and approved.

Committee on Finance reported favorably on bill of Allison & Perkins and an order was drawn on the treasury for the amount.

City Attorney reported an ordinance in reference to the construction of a 12 foot sidewalk on the east side of certain lots in block 69 of the city of Iowa. Ordinance passed the Council by the following vote: Ayes—Acers, Simpson, J. H. Richards, W. H. Richards, Apple. Nays—none.

Committee on Streets and Alleys reported on bids for the construction of a sidewalk in accordance with ordinance No. 130. The contract was let to E. P. Minor for 1170 feet for the sum of $58.93.

On motion the Committee on Public Grounds was instructed to repair the fence on north-west side of cemetery.

Council adjourned until Thursday night, August 5th, 1875.

W. J. SAPP, Clerk.

PRODUCE FOR MARKET.

It seems strange that our farmers do not use better judgment in marketing their green vegetables. Large amounts of potatoes are being sent to this and other markets that are beginning to rot. A half rotten potato is not worth anything and the farmers know that as well before they start to town with them as they do after all the vexation of hauling them around for hours trying in vain to find some one fool enough to buy them. Large amounts of cucumbers come in that have already turned yellow. Oats are offered that are so damp that they will heat and sprout in one day's time. Grass is hauled in that is scarcely wilted and then men get mad because they cannot sell it for hay. Our merchants do the best they can but cannot save such parties from the consequences of their own lack of judgment.
